

Swansea Docks

Swansea Docks is an Atlantic shipping port in Swansea, south Wales. It is located immediately south east of Swansea city centre. In the mid 19th century, the port was exporting 60% of the world's copper from factories situated in the Tawe valley. Today it is just a minor port in the UK and the northern part is undergoing re-development into an urban area. The working docks area is currently owned and operated by Associated British Ports.

SA1 Development

SA1 Swansea Waterfront is different and offers such unique opportunities. Rather than being peripheral, it is a vital part of Swansea set in the real heart of the city; a location wonderfully equipped to house vibrant life and work and leisure, an area capable of sending ripples of development out unique urban opportunity.

from its centre. SA1 Swansea Waterfront isn't just another docklands make-over. It's a

LC

The LC is a new and exciting visitor destination which opened in Swansea in March 2008.

A unique facility, developed by the City and County of Swansea which has transformed the former leisure centre site into a 21st century waterpark by creating a vibrant, modern facility with the very latest technology and cutting-edge attractions.

