

My Special Place

My Special Place

My special place is in the kitchen. It was when I was around 1 and I wanted a snack. I got into the cereal and I dumped it all on the floor. This is my special place because every so often we go in the old photos. It is always one of the first we look at. This always makes me feel warm inside and I always think of when I was little. I also think of what I was thinking when I was that age. I like to see back to how I acted. For example, was I a goof off, did I cry a lot, or anything else.. I think that the main reason I picked this instead of anything else is because I always feel happier about life. I laugh so hard if I am doing weird stuff in the picture.
